18	This matter comes before the Court on Defendants' Motion for Reconsideration and
19	Modification of the Court's Summary Judgment Orders of April 16, 2007 (Dkt. 60). The Court
20	has considered the motion and the remainder of the file herein.
21	I. BACKGROUND
22	On April 16, 2007, the Court granted the defendants' motions for summary judgment but
23	did not dismiss the plaintiff's claims for assault and battery. Dkt. 59 at 18 ("The defendants' briefs
24	do not address the plaintiffs' assault and battery claims. These are therefore the only claims
25	remaining for trial."). The defendants move for reconsideration on the grounds that their motions
26	sought dismissal of all claims. Dkt. 60 at 1. The defendants contend that they "established through
27	[their] extensive briefing and citations to Plaintiff's deposition that Plaintiff has no factual support

1	for his claims of assault and battery." Dkt. 60 at 1-2. The defendants do not cite the portions of
2	their briefs establishing that the plaintiff's assault and battery claims are without merit.
3	II. DISCUSSION
4	The burden on a motion for reconsideration is high:
5	Motions for reconsideration are disfavored. The court will ordinarily deny such motions in the absence of a showing of manifest error in the prior ruling or a showing of new facts or legal authority which could not have been brought to its attention earlier with reasonable diligence.
6 7
	I 1 D-1- CD 7(h)(1) The defendance of the second and end of the second and th
8	Local Rule CR 7(h)(1). The defendants offer new argument and authority regarding the assault
10	Motion for Summary Judgment on Plaintiff's Assault and Battery Claims" if "the Court
11	determines that Defendants' request is not properly the subject of a motion for reconsideration."
12	Dkt. 60 at 2 n.1. Reconsideration is not appropriate here, but following the defendants'
13	suggestion will allow the Court to consider the merits of the parties' positions, and will allow a
14	due process opportunity to brief and respond to the issue of whether the plaintiff has viable claims
15	for assault and battery.
16	II. ORDER
17	Therefore, it is hereby
18	ORDERED that Defendants' Motion for Reconsideration and Modification of the Court's
19	Summary Judgment Orders of April 16, 2007 (Dkt. 60) is CONVERTED to a Motion for
20	Summary Judgment and is RE-NOTED for consideration on May 11, 2007. Pleadings may be
21	filed in accordance with the Local Rules.
22	The Clerk of the Court is instructed to send uncertified copies of this Order to all counsel
23	of record and to any party appearing pro se at said party's last known address.
